27) Exit the “Oath with the Feet of a Goat” – The tablet E2014.62 (CDLI no. P499420), published in P. Zilberg and W. Horowitz, “A Medico-Magical Text from the Otago Tablets, Dunedin New Zealand,” Zeitschrift für Assyriologie 106 (2016), pp. 175-184, ends with a short rubric. This rubric has been interpreted by the authors as a caption for the adjoining drawing (as *ma-mit 1GIR 1 U[ […]], “an oath with the feet of a go[ […]”)). However, upon examination of the photographs published both in print and online, as well as of some close-ups kindly provided by P. Zilberg, it seems clear that the signs in question should be read as:

\[ ba-rù u up-puš₄(TU) \]

“Collated and made [[…]]”

The writing up-puš₄ is attested exclusively in colophons from Achaemenid and Hellenistic Uruk, see e.g. BAK nos. 87–90, 109, and 113 (note in particular the similarity between the present colophon and that of BAK no. 109 = TCL 6, 44 = CDLI no. P363716). This means that the tablet E2014.62 would stem from Uruk — a highly likely possibility.
